

It is my opinion that the FCC, in the interest of public decency, should not in any way relax the policy banning profane language during daytime hours and prohibiting nudity that is shown in a sexually provocative manner.